J. GARFIELD BUELL TO DIRECT THE DRILLING OPERATIONS.

Mr. Buell One of the Best Known Kansas and Oklahoma Oil Producers Tells of Former Businesses.

J. Garfield Buell, who will this morning begin drilling on his deep well at Ingleside, was in Corpus Christi yesterday, shopping at the Nurseries. In an interview with a Caller representative, Mr. Buell said:

"I have one hobby. That is deep wells. When I leave a hole, I don't want to have any regret, or feel that I might have hit it in the next hole drilled first."

"This hobby of mine has meant thousands of dollars to me in the past. Last year we were at work near Arkansas City, Kansas. I had been away from the field for some days, and when I returned, found the drill stopped, and the crew all dismissed by the driller. When I asked him what it meant, he said that he had given it up as a bad one—that he didn't believe there was in it a thousand dollars of the stuff."

The Travelgame is a geographical puzzle more or less complicated, and full of the most startling surprises.
For the ten best solutions in this puzzle, the Caller has offered prizes aggregating in value $442.50 and including three trips to the Expositions at San Francisco and San Diego, Calif.

Players of the Travelgame have nothing to lose. The game calls for the investment of a little time, which can be spent during the long evenings.
In this game there is no soliciting for subscriptions. It is different from that respect from the old style so-called "Penny-a-Layout," which participants are compelled to solicit subscriptions from friends and strangers.

The Travelgame is a quiet amusement to be played in the home. All necessary material is furnished.

On the Travelgame page of this issue will be found a complete P.H.I. list, and the others and copies there-will be mailed to our address at once.

In another issue of this issue will be found the announcement of a supplemental price to be awarded to the person submitting the best solution to the Travelgame this week.
